Trail Information

Lochan Trail ●●●

A gentle trail around the tranquil Glencoe Lochan and woodland, created by Lord Strathcona for his homesick Canadian wife.

A wide, firm and smooth surfaced path, generally flat, but with short gentle gradients, broken up with rest points.

easy

/ 1.6 km
Allow ½ hour

Woodland Trail ●●●

Meandering through huge North American conifers - an impressive woodland path. Enjoy the loch views and in spring, carpets of bluebells.

A firm path with some rough rocky and rooty sections. Constantly undulating, with short steep sections. Can be muddy in places after rain.

strenuous

1 miles
/ 1.6 km
Allow ¾ hour

Mountain trail ●●●

A short but tough path. The view from the slopes of Stac a'Chlamhain (the steep hill of the buzzard) is just superb.

A loose gravel path, with uneven stone steps and rooty sections. Long very steep gradients.
